TO FISH FROM THIS PORT.

Several Italian Fishermen Have Come Here Quite Recently.

Have Been Making T Wharf Headquarters in Past.

During the past week or two, several of the Italian fishermen who for a long time have made T wharf, Boston, their headquarters have come here with their big power dories and have seemingly transferred their base of operations here.

Yesterday four of these big dories, each carrying two and three men, arrived here, so that there is now quite a fleet of them.

One gentleman who owns a number of houses told a Times representative that he let six tenements to Italian fishermen yesterday.

This Large Amount Was All Made in Six Months.

Sch. Sadie M. Nunan, Capt. Frank Nunan, of Cape Porpoise, Me., has made a remarkable record the past winter and her crew claim that she is the high line of the market fleet. The vessel started in operations on September 14, 1907, and landed her first trip on September 23. From that date until April 28, she kept going every minute with high markets and good trips, and up to the latter date, her crew of 16 men had each shared $1016.

May 5

Anxious To Save the Shad Fishery.

The rapid decline of the shad fishery in the waters of the Atlantic coast has brought the supply of the fish to such a small amount that those interested in general fishery matters have called the subject to the attention of legislators for action to stay the loss and measures to propagate the fish in the waters of Maine.

United States Senator Frye has taken the first step in the matter, in the introduction of a bill calling for the appropriation of $15,000 "for the establishment of a shad hatchery in the state of Maine." The bill has passed the senate and is now before the house.

It is expected that the new hatchery will be located near Gardiner, on the Kennebec river.

SEINERS MADE BIG CATCHES.

Fifteen Sail at Fulton Market This Morning.

MORE REPORTED ON THE WAY.

Sch. Ingomar Is Reported with Monster Fare of 35,000.

The best mackerel news of the season came this morning when dispatches from Fulton Market told of the arrival of three seine there, each with fine fares. The dispatches also said "more coming," so as the three crafts in are all gasliners, some sailing crafts are expected to chafe the pier before sun down.

Sch. Elizabeth Silsbee, Capt. John McKinnon, reached Fulton dock about 6 o'clock last evening with a splendid fare, 20,000 fresh medium mackerel, with some few large ones mixed in. This is the second trip for the Silsbee and as she stocked $2700 on the first one, this fare will bring her up over close up around the $5500 mark or better.

Late last night sch. Saladin, Capt. Benjamin A. Spurling, arrived, also with 20,000 fresh medium mackerel.

Early this morning sch. Monarch, Capt. John F. Vautier, came in with 10,000 fresh medium mackerel. This is Capt. Vautier's third trip this season, thus far and will make his stock look up well.

Fresh mackerel sold at Fulton market this morning at 30 cents each for large and 18 cents each for mediums.

A despatch to the Times says that sch. Ingomar and others are expected during the day.

Capt. Spurling of sch. Saladin reported getting his haul Monday noon, during a rain storm, 70 miles from Barnegat, down in the vicinity of Winter Quarter lightship, in 30 fathoms of water. He says he saw quite a lot of schools, indicating that there was some body to the fish and thought the prospect looked fairly good.

Capt. McKinnon of sch. Elizabeth Silsbee was five miles to the southward of the Saladin, in 35 fathoms of water. He did not see many schools where he was and was inclined to take a poor view of the situation.

Sch. Monarch took her fish in the vicinity of schs. Elizabeth Silsbee and Saladin and there was quite a fleet there, some of whom made hauls, how much and who they were the skippers of the gasliners did not stop to see as they drove for market with their own catches.

A later dispatch to the Times says that sch. Saladin counted out 15,705 mackerel, sch. Monarch 11,085 mediums and 47 large and sch. Elizabeth Silsbee 12,000. The fish were taken in latitude 38.06 north, in 35 fathoms of water. Some schools were seen and there were 28 sail about five miles to the southward. It is thought that many took fish as at 9.45 o'clock this morning several seiners were reported off the Highlands of Navesink, bound to market, sch. A. M. Nicholson, Capt. Solomon Jacobs, being one of them.

At 10.30 o'clock this forenoon, nine seiners with fares of fresh mackerel, passed in by Sandy Hook, bound to Fulton Market.

The following seiners reached Fulton Market, New York, just before noon today:

Sch. Ingomar, Capt. Wallace Parsons, 35,000 fresh mackerel.

Sch. Norma, Capt. Benj. McGray, 12,000 fresh mackerel.

Sch. Tartar, Capt. Thomas Somers, 12,000 fresh mackerel.

Sch. Clintonia, Capt. Ralph Webber, 10,000 fresh mackerel.

Sch. A. M. Nicholson, Capt. Solomon Jacobs, 20,000, fresh mackerel.

Another despatch to the Times just before noon states that schs. Theodore Roosevelt, Pinta, Slade Gorton, Arabia and Diana have also just arrived there with fine fares.

It bids fair to be a great big mackerel day and still they say there are more to come.

May 6

Halibut Sale

The fare of sch. Massachusetts sold to the New England Fish Co. at 11 cents per pound for white and 9 cents for gray.
